

PULL

Give Christmas a twist

★ by trying something new.

Hoping for a white Christmas? Why not let your children loose in the kitchen with the icing sugar to guarantee the snowiest December ever? Snow-dusted mince pies are just one of the suggestions for fun festive food you'll find here. And to add extra spice to your family celebrations, we're giving you a free Gingerbread Decorating Kit. Just hand in the enclosed coupon when you next visit Sainsbury's.

Have a magical Christmas.

Arty show

To create instant, edible, 'snow,' why not sprinkle icing sugar or cinnamon over mince pies? You could use paper stencils to make Christmas shapes.

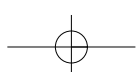

Spicy chocolate

Try adding a pinch of cinnamon to hot chocolate to give it a seasonal twist. Perfect to take in a flask if you're going carol singing.

Jazzy gingerbread

Try decorating gingerbread men with coloured icing and sprinkles to make angels or wise men or anything you like. There are five gingerbread men in your kit (free with the enclosed coupon).

Shapely ★ sandwiches

Why not give a twist to turkey sandwiches by cutting them into Christmas shapes?

Delighted to eat you.

Tasty place settings

Try icing your guests' names onto shortbread for a tasty and original place setting card.

Victory is sweet.

Yummy fun

Why not make family games even more fun by using chocolate coins as the pieces? The winner eats the game.

Just add nutmeg

Give everyday recipes a seasonal flavour with grated nutmeg. Sprinkle it on porridge on Christmas morning or add it to stewed Conference pears.

Supermarket of the Year